

ACCREDITATION: Are You Ready?

When embarking on the road to accreditation it is important for organizations to have a base level understanding of their level of preparedness. Those who do are more likely achieve accreditation with focus and efficiency.

NEARLY 58%

Of leadership team meeting minutes do not reflect risk prevention and management activities reviewed.

60%

Have written emergency procedures that need to be updated, do not meet standards or are not tested.

ONLY 1/3

Have up to date written behavioral management procedures

ONLY 40%

Have a current board approved strategic plan

81%

NEED to create written quality improvement plans and procedures to meet accreditation requirements

ONLY 30%

Measure personnel satisfaction rates annually

Take Accreditation Guru's FREE readiness assessment:
AccreditationGuru.com/READY